Imagine yourself and 4 friends in a one donkey power rolling tin can, desperately trying to traverse India...

Well, I've committed to help drive two auto rickshaws across the Indian sub-continent from Jaisalmer in the far north to Kochi in the far south. This unsupported run of over 2,600 kms must be completed within 14 days. There is no set route, no back-up and no way of knowing if we're going to make it. The only certainty is we will get lost, we will get stuck and we probably will break down!

At the time, this seemed like a sensible way to raise funds and awareness for Athletics for Kids and Cool Earth! Thanks to our sponsors we are well on our way to meeting our goals, but you can help by contributing to the cause or by just following along on the SailPoint blog page.

Here are the details:

Cool Earth's vision is a world where tropical deforestation and degradation has no role in climate change. With half of the world's rainforest lost over the past forty years, we need a new approach to conservation.

The only way to halt destruction is to align the future of the rainforest with the people best placed to protect it. This means placing forest in the hands of the people who rely on its survival for their survival. Cool Earth does just that.

Goal for Cool Earth : $3,000

A4K works diligently and thoughtfully in providing financially disadvantaged youth with greater access to organized sport. All too often children and youth are denied the opportunity to participate in amateur sports due to one simple fact: lack of funds.

As a privately funded charity, A4K get dollars into the hands of those who need it most, quickly and effectively by supporting children ages 5 to 18 who are currently enrolled in school.

Goal for A4K: $15,000
